Energy saving : No saving is too small

BAMBOOS
3rd November, 2018

Small incremental energy saving initiatives are just as essential as the “big impact” projects like solar

- Several BAF societies have successfully implemented projects which contribute to energy savings:
 - “Low hanging fruit” initiatives are low risk and easy to implement
 - Generates significant long term savings given inflation in utility tariff
 - Builds awareness and a culture of energy saving

1. Switching to energy saving light bulbs

2. Installing motion sensors for stairwell lighting

3. Synchronising lifts to minimize unnecessary movement (though waiting time may increase a bit)

4. Campaigns and awareness drives particularly with children

5. An energy audit can throw up interesting insights on areas for electricity savings and bill reduction

THANK YOU!
